Workshops for the Educators of Young Children

Joyce Poe and Jeannine Aristeguieta

Share some of your favorite insect/bug books and experiences with your students. Brainstorm with your students some of the things bugs do, some of the ways bugs look, some of the noises bugs make and some of the things the children like about bugs. Your song adaptation might go a little something like the one below . . .

I Love the Mountains

I love the rolling hills

I love the flowers

I love the daffodils

I love the fireside when all the lights are low

I see the dragonflies

I hear the bumblebees as they go buzzing by
