

waddlee-ah-cha

Workshops for the Educators of Young Children

Joyce Poe and Jeannine Aristeguieta

In My Grandpa's Garden

(This is the Way We Go to School Adaptation)

I can pull the green cucumber, green cucumber, green cucumber,
I can pull the green cucumber in my grandpa's garden.

I can pick some cherry tomatoes, cherry tomatoes, cherry tomatoes,
I can pick some cherry tomatoes in my grandpa's garden.

I can ride the John Deer tractor, John Deer tractor, John Deer tractor,
I can ride the John Deer tractor in my grandpa's garden.

I can wear my rubber boots, rubber boots, rubber boots,
I can wear my rubber boots in my grandpa's garden.

I can shake dirt off the radishes, off the radishes, off the radishes,
I can shake dirt off the radishes in my grandpa's garden.

I can see the tall swiss chard, tall swiss chard, tall swiss chard,
I can see the tall swiss chard in my grandpa's garden.

I can spot the yellow sunflower, yellow sunflower, yellow sunflower,
I can spot the yellow sunflower in my grandpa's garden.

Shh, I can hear the ears of corn, ears of corn, ears of corn,
I can hear the ears of corn in my grandpa's garden.

